

The Organisation

The Mosquito Pathfinder Trust has been established with one key goal in mind – to return a fully airworthy de Havilland Mosquito to the skies over Britain.

The charity has a significant task ahead of it, aiming to return a fully restored de Havilland Mosquito to Britain and prepare it for public displays to commence in 2021.

The Role:

We want to recruit an enthusiastic and motivated volunteer, who has an interest or sympathy with our organisation's aim; thus, an interest in aviation or aircraft in general, is useful. This position is ideal for those who are looking to gain invaluable experience and work-related skills in the charity sector and indeed who wish to contribute to a worthy cause. As ample support will be given, the volunteer is guaranteed to find this placement rewarding. The key skills and characteristics of the volunteer we are looking for consist of:

- The ability to have a direct and positive impact on the continuous development of a social media strategy for the charity
- The ability to promote the goals of this charity to the British public across multiple channels
- Ability to adapt and monitor the social media strategy in its ability to support fundraising campaigns across all platforms
- The ability to work on own initiative
- Committed and Hardworking
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Advanced in the use of social media and campaign management tools
- Accuracy and Attention to detail

The Commitment

Much of the content and images required for this role will be provided readily and so will input regarding the various initiatives the charity is running. Therefore, the volunteer will not be expected to work full time, but rather in an ad-hoc flexible manner, ensuring that social media posts and content are distributed at agreed times and intervals and that all public questions are relayed onward to our management and board and trustees.

Job Type: Volunteer
